

Kimberly Rodriguez founded Coverage2Care in 2015, a full service agency focusing on the Medicare population. She began her Medicare career back in 2006 helping the lower income population apply for additional benefits and social programs through non-profit organizations in the state of Texas. Through the years she has had the opportunity to partner with community outreach programs, medical groups and advocates of all sorts to provide awareness of resources to the Medicare population.

She has worked with the city of San Antonio to conduct flu shots at no cost to the lower and underserved population. Through Coverage2Care she also has worked with nurse practitioners on Diabetes education and informative talks with Physicians in the area.

Her background is in sales & marketing with major insurance agencies such as USAA and Allstate which has given her a unique perspective that has helped her through her career. She has also worked closely with various Medical Groups focusing on Geriatric care such as Conviva, Gonzaba, Health Texas, Independent Physicians and WellMed. She has had an extended look at the needs of local clinics to help serve the baby boomer population. As a Hispanic woman she believes helping those that lack education or understanding in a certain topic such as the complex program Medicare. It makes her proud and grateful to bring knowledge to clients in their decision making for coverage.

She is married to her husband, Daniel, and has 3 children.
